25X1

12 October 1961 25X1

Copy No. ED 12

CENTRAL INTELLIGEN BULLETIN

25X1

State Dept. review completed

TOP SECRET

12 October 1961

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE BULLETIN

CONTENTS

		25X
5.	UAR: Some Egyptian Army officers reportedly discussing the prospects of ousting Nasir. (Page 111)
		25X6
7.	Great Britain: British attitudes toward Berlin crisis. (Page	iv)
8.	Finland: USSR trying to influence forthcoming presidential election in favor of Kekkonen. (Page 1v)

Britam-Berlin: /In assessing current British opinion on the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimac Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate	,	Approved For Release	e 2003/04/17 : CIA-RDP79T0097	5A006000130001-0	25X1
the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate	25X6
the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate
the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate
the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate
the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate
the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate
the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate
the Berlin situation, the US Embassy in London reports that the current mood is one of relief that the US is engaged in exploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		Duit & Conline	My'nggogging ourport Duit	igh opinion on ploratory talks with the Soviet Union. The view is widely held that de facto recognition of East Germany is the price the USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate	25Y1	the Berlin situation,	the US Embassy in Londo	on reports that
USSR seeks for a Berlin settlement and that the West can and should pay this price. Resolutions to this effect were enthusiastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		ploratory talks with	the Soviet Union. The vie	ew is widely held	No siastically accepted at the recent annual conferences of the Labor and Liberal parties, and similar views are likely to be expressed at the Conservative party conference this week. USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		USSR seeks for a Be	rlin settlement and that th	ne West can and
USSR-Finland: The USSR is trying to influence the Finnish presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		siastically accepted	at the recent annual confe	rences of the	25X1 presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		-	•
presidential election, scheduled for 15 January 1962, in an effort to ensure the re-election of President Kekkonen. The recent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		HCCD Finlands	The HEED is theirs to infl	yongo tho Finnigh cent good-will tour of Soviet President Brezhnev, in which he lauded Kekkonen for maintaining good relations with the USSR has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		presidential election	, scheduled for 15 Januar	y 1962, in an ef-has strengthened Kekkonen's position, as have the continuing negotiations on the offer by Moscow to lease its portion of the Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		cent good-will tour	of Soviet President Brezhr	nev, in which he Saimaa Canal connecting the Finnish lake system with the Gulf of Finland. As early as last March the Soviets indicated their dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate 12 Oct 61 DAILY BRIEF iv		has strengthened Kel	kkonen's position, as have	the continuing \langle
dislike of Kekkonen's leading rival, Olavi Honka, the candidate		Saimaa Canal connec	cting the Finnish lake syst	em with the Gulf
					>
				\
25X1		12 Oct 61	DAILY BRIEF	iv
y				\neg	25X1

	Approved For Release 2003/04/17 : CIA-RDP79T00975A006000130001-0	25X1
•
	of the Social Democrat, Conservative, and Liberal parties.
	Kekkonen's forthcoming visit to the US is probably intended	4 3 8
	to balance out these Soviet endorsements. Honka has been waging an "uphill fight," and most observers in Finland be-	25X1 lieve that the election will be fairly close.
25X1

DAILY BRIEF

25X1

12 Oct 61

Finland-USSR

President Kekkonen's strongest appeal is the widespread belief in Finland that he has handled Finnish-Soviet relations skillfully. Kekkonen's supporters are playing on the fear of a recurrence of the 1958 crisis when the Soviet Union forced the fall of a cabinet objectionable to it. His re-election prospects will also be improved if, as rumored, he visits Moscow prior to the presidential election on 15-16 January to sign an agreement for leasing the Soviet portion of the truncated Saimaa Canal. The commander of the Finnish defense forces, General Simelius, left on 10 October for a private vacation in the USSR on an invitation given by Marshal Malinovsky when he visited Finland last April.

The Soviets' desire for the re-election of Kekkonen probably reflects their conviction that he is more likely to support Soviet foreign policy objectives than his leading rival, Honka, particularly in regard to recognition of the East German regime and creation of a neutral zone in northern and central Europe. When the 1962 trade negotiations begin late this month, the USSR can exert strong pressure to gain such support. Soviet President Brezhnev implied during his recent visit that Kekkonen's defeat would lead to a deterioration in Soviet-Finnish relations and went out of his way to identify Kekkonen personally with the current "friendly relations." Brezhnev implied that Finland had a role to play in making a peace treaty with East Germany. A high Finnish Foreign Ministry official has denied that Brezhnev privately put any pressure on the Finns to recognize East Germany. Finland, however, was one of the four nonbloc countries to send a delegation to the 12th anniversary celebration in East Berlin of the founding of the East German Communist regime. The president of the East German parliament told the delegation that "no international obligation" prevented Finland from concluding a peace treaty with East Germany.

Brezhnev, according to the West German commercial representation in Helsinki, also encouraged Kekkonen to promote

Page 2

25X1

12 Oct 61

25X1

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE BULLETIN

the idea of a Scandinavian and central European neutral bloc during his forthcoming visit to the United States and Canada. Since 1952 Kekkonen and other Finnish officials have peri-25X1 odically referred to the desirability of a Scandinavian neutral bloc, believing Finland could better maintain its neutrality if the neutral area could be extended. The Finns wish to prevent the USSR from invoking the 1948 Treaty of Friendship, Cooperation, and Mutual Assistance between the two countries under the terms of which the Finns are obliged to resist an attack across Finnish territory on the USSR by Germany or a state allied to Germany. While the Finnish Government has not actively promoted a Nordic neutral bloc, there are indications that a number of prominent Finns have broached the idea to their Nordic associates. There is little likelihood that the Danes or Norwegians would be willing to withdraw from NATO. 25X1

25X1

25X1

```
THE PRESIDENT
The Vice President
Executive Offices of the White House
    Special Counsel to the President
    Military Representative of the President
    The Special Assistant for National Security Affairs
    The Scientific Adviser to the President
    The Director of the Budget
    The Director, Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization
    The Director, National Aeronautics and Space Administration
    Chairman, Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board
The Department of State
    The Secretary of State
     The Under Secretary of State
     The Director, International Cooperation Administration
     The Deputy Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs
     The Deputy Under Secretary of State for Administration
     The Counselor and Chairman of the Policy Planning Council
     The Director of Intelligence and Research
The Treasury Department
     The Secretary of the Treasury
     The Under Secretary of the Treasury
The Department of Defense
     The Secretary of Defense
     The Deputy Secretary of Defense
     The Secretary of the Army
     The Secretary of the Navy
     The Secretary of the Air Force
     The Assistant Secretary of Defense (International Security Affairs)
     The Assistant to Secretary of Defense (Special Operations)
     The Chairman, The Joint Chiefs of Staff
     Chief of Naval Operations, United States Navy
     Chief of Staff, United States Air Force
     Chief of Staff, United States Army
     Commandant, United States Marine Corps
     U.S. Rep., Military Committee and Standing Group, NATO
     Supreme Allied Commander, Europe
     Commander in Chief, Pacific
     The Director, The Joint Staff
     The Director for Intelligence, The Joint Staff
     The Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence, Department of Army
     The Director of Naval Intelligence, Department of Navy
     The Assistant Chief of Staff, Intelligence, Department of the Air Force
The Department of Justice
     The Attorney General
     The Federal Bureau of Investigation
          The Director
The Atomic Energy Commission
     The Chairman
The National Security Agency
     The Director
 The United States Information Agency
     The Director
 The National Indications Center
     The Director
```

